AMERICAN LEAGUE PROPOSES OPEN
SESSIONS.These For Discussion of Pending Legislation and other Matters—A Meeting.There was an unusually large attendance for the American League regular meeting of last evening.
After the routine of business had been disposed of remarks were made by several members invited to speak, and the "good of the country" comment brought about a general discussion. The League is much pleased over the progress that it is reported Mr. Hatch is making at Washington and sends him a message of congratulation and assurance of support.One of the members suggested that the League have a "third house" during the legislative session. This idea was approved at once with earnestness, and plans of procedure were outlined. It is proposed to take up measures as they are presented to the Legislature and give the same discussion. This will be in open meeting. It was proposed to have all meetings open hereafter. This was objected to, but it was agreed that it might be well to have three open meetings, then a closed session of business. The idea of a number of members is that there should be remored all flavor of secrecy from the League as an organization.Reports last night are that nearly all members of the League were in employment, and that the finances of the organization were being gotten into good shape.Word is received from Waianae, of an epidemic of measles. This disease was caused by a lady

There is nothing in a quite current report that the water rates are to be increased. No changes are to be made. Mr. Brown said this morning some of the customers should be charged extra, but there seemed no way of reaching them.An aggravating nuisance is to be taken in hand by the Board of Health. That is the practice in several quarters of the city, especially the Oriental side, of dashing foul water upon the streets. At first thought the nuisance would seem a peculiar and perhaps a difficult one to handle. But the Board of Health will enlist the assistance of the police department. Member John T. Waterhouse of the Board is the father of the movement. It is reported, and not denied, that he has had several narrow escapes while driving in from Nuuanu valley.Using a Stick Horse.
This morning a Chinaman named Ah Kow was working a most miserable specimen of a horse on Nuuanu street. The animal had a very sore back, was thin, weak and old. His load was drawn with great difficulty, and the poor beast was frequently solicited to lashings. A native policeman witnessed the proceeding and arrested the Chinaman. The latter will be prosecuted in the Courts and the horse will be given a rest until in good condition to work.For Bread and Pastry

UNUSUAL CASE.

Arrest and Trial of a Bus Driver Without a Present License.H. Niles, the foreman of the Tram Company's Palama depot, was charged in police court today with violating Chapter XXXII, Section 12, of the Laws of 1894, by driving a licensed vehicle without having a license as provided by law, in Honolulu January 22, 1896. The only evidence given was that of S. A.
Macy, bus inspector, who produced his record of applications for licenses, in order to show that the defendant had not applied for one. The real nature of the case was revealed in the cross-examination, as Macy admitted that he knew that the regular driver of the bus was George Fern, who was employed by the Company as drivers, and that he himself was at the funeral of Henry Fern, whose wife and daughter were killed two days before. He violently, Macy himself was at the funeral, and saw the regular driver there.The inspector was forced to admit that when drivers violated the law he sometimes warned them, but that in this case he arrested the man without any warning, although it was the first time he had found him driving without a license.Mr. Creighton, who appeared for the defense, pointed out that the record produced merely showed that no applica-
